I believe that the Justice Dept.should take the necessary course of action to swiftly resolve the cases pending against Microsoft. Enough is Enough !
From my viewpoint the entire anti trust affair was instigated by Senators and Congressmen sympathetic to Micorsoft's competitors. These elected officials have just been carrying on a vendetta for the companies that are in competition with Microsoft,with no regard for the consumer's interest.
The competing software companies should expend their efforts towards making software that is competitive and usefull in the marketplace,instead of trying to stifle software and systems that the public needs and desires.

Lets get on with the future.
